Press Release – IMPROVE YOUR BOTTOM LINE BY UTILIZING ONLINE TRAINING FROM LAKEHURST CONSULTING

September 14 – New London, MO. - LAKEHURST CONSULTING announced an association with Lean6Sigma Academy, a division of Cannsult, LLC, to provide online training in continuous improvement methods, a new offering that can change the trajectory of small to medium sized manufacturing companies seeking to increase profitability in our current business environment.

“The training augments our ONE-ON-ONE OPERATIONAL EXCELLENCE methodology in working with manufacturing companies by upskilling their team to identify inefficiencies and harnessing the brainpower of those closest to the work to improve throughput and reduce costs” commented Dan Pinkham, Lakehurst Consulting Owner and Principal Consultant. “This Lean Six Sigma training establishes the foundation for a culture of continuous improvement and aligns with our approach to help company leaders see operating issues as opportunities to grow and enhance their business from the manufacturing floor upward.”

The training can be aligned with roles in an organization. It includes multiple levels of improvement understanding and leadership, starting with an introductory “White Belt” course to become familiar with the concepts, and leading up to a “Black Belt” level of improvement mastery and leadership. The online offering features training for leaders championing improvements, certification at each training level, and is self-paced.
